

Summer TV's T

JULY 10-16, 2006

TV GUIDE

ONLY $1.99

HOT List Family Edition

by Mark Nollinger

PRESCHOOL

FRANNY'S FEET

Saturday, PBS; check tvguide.com An international hit that's just finding its way here, this charming new series follows a little girl who slips on different pairs of shoes in her grandpa's shop each week and is magically transported on educational adventures around the globe. In this episode, Franny learns about dinosaurs while digging for fossils in Canada.

Franny and Grandpa

Rodney and Andy: Friends fur-ever neighborhood exploits of 10-year-old Andy and his furry "pest" friend Rodney, a mischievous squirrel who joins him on one misadventure after another.

TWEENS

ROMEO!

Sunday, 7/6c, Nickelodeon The season finale of the popular tween comedy finds the young rapper on the verge of his big break after a big-time record executive offers him the opening slot at an important gig in Los Angeles.

TEENS

GLOBAL WARMING: WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW, WITH TOM BROKAW

Sunday, 9/8c, Discovery Channel Combining interviews with computer models, this sober-minded—and sobering—two-hour special hosted by former NBC news anchor Brokaw aims to separate fact from fiction in the debate on climate change and its potential effects on the planet we call home. Parental warning: Your teens will likely be hounding you to ditch the SUV.

Tom Brokaw

SCHOOLKIDS

SQUIRREL BOY

Friday, 7/6c, Cartoon Network Duckman creator Everett Peck returns to TV with this wacky new toon about the neigh-